The Folly of Party Issues

Though we have no doubt that a large majority of the loyal citizens of this State are determined to stand by the Government, without regard to party issues yet it is apparent that in what composed the Union ranks last year, there are men who on the one side desire, for reasons which we will not now stop to consider, to organize a faction to be controlled by them as professedly an Administration party, with personal ends in view, while on the other are those who seem to think it good policy to raise the standard of some kind of Democracy We have no sympathy with either of these projects and until the war is over, we hope the good sense and patriotism of all who wish the country to prosper, will put down and overcome any such movements There are limits beyond which, adherence to a party is neither justifiable or to be tolerated As no one has a right to do wrong, so no man can rightfully support a party in wrong actions The lines of party are composed of measures and policies, not principles or morals They are administrative, relating to actions subordinate to Constitutions and laws, and not to the principles on which the Government is founded With other pretensions a party cannot rightfully exist or if it does it becomes a faction, a conspiracy, a rebellion or a revolution, according to its purposes or its aims When it strikes at the Government, its form, its authority or its principles, it goes beyond the sphere of party action and seeking to destroy public safety, it becomes a public enemy and outlaws itself, for a conspiracy against the government in a republic, is a conspiracy against the people, and against each individual Now it must be clear that upon the question of sustaining the Government in crushing a rebellion, there can be no party issues, but the plain duty of all is to stand by it, for the question is one of national existence or destruction

True, men are not expected to think every measure of administration right or expedient but when the country is in peril, they must be patriots or traitors There is no middle, no neutral position They must support or oppose the Government, they must assist one side or the other if they do nothing and say nothing, they give aid and comfort to the rebellion, just in proportion as they fail in this duty to the country

Those who organize parties against the government, of course are opposing not the administration but the nation They are conspirators, every man of them, against the Constitution and the laws, against the peace and dignity of the land While we have a Government, its officers must fight against and crush rebellion, and every citizen is equally bound to assist them, with all his might, for if this is not done, our liberties, our lives, our property are at the mercy and caprice of each man who refuses to do his duty, and anarchy takes the place of law and order Those also who insist on making narrow platforms, representing old party dogmas, and denounce all as disloyal, who do not come within their prescribed lines, are doing infinite damage to the patriotic cause, for there is no question here and now of the approval of the acts of the Administration We never saw, and never expect to see an Administration, all the acts of which we approve and justify No man has, and if any one pretends so, he is either a liar or a fool But we have endeavored to support the just and lawful authority of each and all, for as reasonable men, we never supposed we had a right to do differently Especially must this be so now, and it will be if the people who love the Union reject the counsels of those who to gratify their malice or to advance personal and selfish interests, are striving to divide and weaken the patriotic strength of this State and of the nation

Mere questions and issues of policy are out of date Our first business is to save the Union, by a thorough union of all those who know their duty and intend to do it If they fail in this—if they plan schemes that must inevitably bring defeat to the cause of the country, they will prove how unworthy they are of the great blessings of liberty bestowed upon them—how madly, for office or spite, or love of the South or of slavery, or for any base cause, they bartered away a heritage of freedom bought by the blood of patriots, the fruits of whose suffering and death they ought never to have enjoyed

Not a Sample —We should be sorry to believe that the feelings expressed by one Adams Collector of Customs at Astoria Oregon, towards these Colonies are entertained by any very large portion of the American people Who or what this Adams is we do not care to know but we can tell him what he is not —a gentleman or he could not have penned the following in relation to the Beef Embargo The extract is from a letter written to Victor Smith "I have peremptorily shut down on the exportation of all kinds of live stock to Victoria, even to blood hounds or anything of the four legged animal kind that a British soldier, or one of Jeff's ragmuffin cut throats could either eat, ride or hiss in the track of a Union man I should have been glad to have enforced an order prohibiting the shipment of even a pint of beans or peck of bran to our secession flag raising neighbors'

The foregoing from the Victoria Chronicle, is perhaps not an unnatural comment upon a letter which at least is somewhat out of the ordinary course of official correspondence on the part of one who is expected to promote foreign trade and commerce in every reasonable way It is doubtless a fact that a portion of the Victorians sympathize with the South, but we do not suppose that for that cause our products are all to be kept away from British Columbia nor do we believe that the Government or the people generally will approve of the spirit manifested in the extract quoted As however it means nothing and is only the effervescence of an artificial patriotism which begins and ends in froth, our neighbors need not be disturbed The writer thought it would sound well, and so, forgetting that the Government and the people anxiously desire a market for all the "beans and the bran," and everything else we can raise which can be spared, he ventilated his characteristic rhetoric If it had been written by the Collector at New York or any other port of much consequence probably it would have been followed by a sharp rebuke or by removal from office but as it is not likely to cause any serious trouble, under present circumstances we presume it will be overlooked though for the honor of the country and of the position which he happens to hold we trust the official will be more cautious in future It is not long since he professed a natural and sensible desire to have the commerce between Victoria and Portland magnified, and even advised our merchants to purchase goods over there "of our secession flag-raising neighbors rather than to be obliged to pay the San Francisco prices increased by the risks of American shipments Where was his intense patriotism then? Of course the fact that foreign merchandise bought at Victoria would be liable to pay duties at Astoria never influenced his sagacious advice or soothed his wrath against the "bloody British" of course not,— but we confess we cannot see why it is not quite as patriotic to sell products which we wish to dispose of, as it is to carry our money there and buy what our neighbors have to sell it may be our fault that the thing looks obscure but as we cannot take a Custom House view of it, we acknowledge our inability to discover what may be very clear and consistent to official vision

Executive Independence —The Philadelphia North American a paper thoroughly loyal wisely says in reference to the many and often repeated attempts to coerce and compel the President to give commands to Fremont, McClellan, Sigel and others, "that it is high time these attempts to overawe the national authorities, in order to secure commands and power for particular generals were stopped, and that the administration faithfully supporting as it does competent generals entrusted with important duties should not be interfered with by factions Generals who are not content to occupy uncomplaining ly the positions entrusted to them are not fit to hold command in war, and ought not to be allowed to intrigue themselves into favorite posts It is not the hostility of the administration which keeps them out of service but their own inordinate vanity and pretensions There is quite a swarm of these men, who if placed in the field anywhere would immediately claim to outrank and supercede such able generals as Grant, Rosecrans or Banks, and some of them would very much like to outrank Mr Lincoln himself by running for President"

Conversation with a Rebel Prisoner —A correspondent of the Philadelphia Enquirer, writing from Frederick, Maryland says

Last evening I conversed with a rebel prisoner in the guard house in this city, and obtained from him some interesting facts His name is Fewell, and he belonged to a Virginia cavalry regiment attached to Stuart's corps He was captured at Falling Waters by the party who destroyed the pontoon bridge at that point on Saturday last He says that the pontoon boats were part of those captured from McClellan's army, during the Peninsula campaign last summer, and were brought up the Potomac to facilitate the crossing and recrossing of Lee's army

He was a dispatch bearer from Gen Stuart to Lee, and when captured had on his person important dispatches from Jeff Davis to Lee These papers he destroyed on his way to this city, first letting them get thoroughly wet with the rain and then tearing them in pieces He says if he had been searched immediately when captured our men could not have failed to have got the papers It would be well for our officers and men to remember this in future He declined to give any information as to Lee's situation, his movements or numbers but when I fixed the number of the rebel army at 75 000 men, he said, earnestly "Oh no its a great deal more than that, I know,"

"How many men, then, do you suppose Lee had when he went into Pennsylvania?" I inquired?

"He had from 100,000 to 125 000," he answered. "They have been making preparations to go into Pennsylvania for the last six months, and the army was stronger better clothed, better armed and better disciplined than any army the Confederacy has ever put in the field There was no skulking or no straggling in that army, I assure you for I saw a great part of it go through Winchester and Martinsburg and I know that in never was in better condition"

"Well," said I, "as fine as it was it has been badly defeated by Gen Meade"

"What's the news?" he inquired eagerly

"The news is that Lee's army is whipped and is retreating in all directions"

"Well, said he with a sigh, "if that's the case, your army has defeated the best army that ever trod the earth for there was better material in that army than in any we have in the field"

He could scarcely credit what I told him for he believed religiously that Lee could walk right into Philadelphia Baltimore and Washington with his army, so much time and preparation had been expended in its organization and equipment

He had been with Stuart on several of his raids and said Stuart could have burned the pontoon bridge in half the time it took our troops to do it He states that dispatches from Davis to Lee are forwarded by relays of couriers on horseback, at intervals of eighteen or twenty miles, between Richmond and Pennsylvania He is a native of Loudon county Va and appeared to be a youth of considerable intelligence and earnestly devoted to the rebel cause

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 7th.

Good News from Charleston.

The Siege Progresses Favorably.

A Fleet for this Coast.

A Movement against Mobile.

Baltimore, August 7th —A flag of truce boat arrived at Fortress Monroe last night Richmond papers contain no news of importance Jeff Davis had issued an urgent appeal to Confederate officers and soldiers to return immediately to their posts He complains of want of alacrity among all classes in coming forward in this most dismal hour of the South The Richmond Enquirer is gloomy over the position of Charleston and says the fall of that place will be the most mortifying and disastrous event of the war, and a fatal blow to the cause of the Confederacy The same paper says Lee's troops are preparing for another battle The army is in excellent condition and spirits

Fortress Monroe August 7 —The steamer Spaulding from Stono Inlet August 4th, has arrived No news of importance The siege of Charleston was progressing favorably

New York August 7 —The Post Washington special says the Chronicle of this morning says a movement is in progress which is morally certain to result in the capture of Mobile.

Stirring news is expected shortly from that quarter Officers from the front today bring nothing new The heat continues and the streams are drying up

Washington, Aug 7 —Articles appear in the journals of this city and elsewhere representing war with Great Britain as imminent but the assumption that these articles are authorized by the government or made upon any knowledge of its views, is without foundation

New York, Aug 7 —The supply of money is abundant at 5@6 per cent Sterling 139½ @140 Gold opened at 127½ and closed at 126 Government stocks continue without change

Chicago Aug 7 —Yesterday's N Y Herald says the government designs sending a naval force to the Pacific, and with this view the commandant of the naval rendezvous on that coast is directed to make strenuous efforts to procure 200 men in each and all the different grades of service They will be required to enlist for two years

New York, Aug 7 —Claims against the city for damages sustained by the late riots, thus far presented, foot up $950,000

Baltimore, August 7 —The American contains correspondence from on board the flag ship Dinsmore off Morris Island, to the 3d It says that all there are confident of success None seem to entertain the slightest doubts and with such feelings failure is next to impossible The grand ball will open in course of a week, and will be the most furious fight of the war More batteries have been erected in front of each fort, and the Ironsides is within 500 yards of Fort Sumter The fall of Fort Sumter is a thing as certain as the day of attack arrives The enemy are also at work erecting batteries on James Island, but we are putting up batteries to command them Some of the monitors will go in to-night to harass the enemy Five hundred rebels were taken yesterday on an island in the rear of Folly Island They showed but little fight, and after a volley or two was fired at them, laid down their arms There has not been more than a dozen guns fired to day, and they were from our water batteries The enemy has been unusually quiet, evidently finding that he has been wasting a good deal of ammunition lately without gaining anything The weather is hot Arrived reinforcements has given new spirits to the troops on shore

Fortress Monroe, Aug. 6 —A Charleston letter dated August 2d says, firing commenced on Fort Wagner that day quite lively Batteries on James Island returned the fire On Saturday, at eleven in the morning a column of rebel infantry made a sortie on our batteries in course of construction, but were handsomely repulsed with considerable loss Our troops are in the best spirits, and perfect harmony exists between the army and navy

Heavy reinforcements are pouring in for Gen Gilmore, and the reduction of Wagner and Sumter is merely a question of time

A blockade runner, attempting to get out on Saturday night was sunk by the Ironsides It is supposed that all the crew perished, and a valuable cargo of cotton destroyed

Boston, August 7 —The correspondent of the Herald's letter, dated Charleston, August 2d, says the new battery received by General Gilmore has been mounted on Morris Island and comprises the heaviest guns ever cast in the north

Editor Oregonian

If your office was represented in any of the reporter's chairs at the State Teacher's Institute, he failed to make himself known to your humble correspondent and so I concluded to send you a brief abstract of their proceedings

The attendance was somewhat meagre in numbers though quite respectable in point of ability In the absence of the President (Bishop Scott of Milwaukie) Mr Cornelius of this place was chosen President pro tem A C Daniels was chosen Secretary After the usual preliminaries of appointing committees etc, the meeting went into a rambling discussion of matters and things in general introduced by an ably written essay on the usefulness of the Association, it properly conducted by Prof Cornelius.

The evening was devoted to the delivery of an entertaining lecture by Prof E A Tanner, of Forest Grove which was listened to by a large and appreciative audience

Thursday morning the usual routine of business was resumed but President Lincoln's Thanksgiving occurring the Association adjourned to hear an eloquent and patriotic sermon by Rev T D Driver

The second evening, Prof Cornelius delivered an elaborate and interesting lecture on the true distinction between knowledge and education

On Friday evening a spirited discussion took place on the duty of the State to provide and sustain a system of Free Schools

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following choice President —Hon A C Gibbs, Vice Presidents—Prof L Cornelius Prof E A Tanner Forest Grove, E B Underwood Esq Eugene City Corresponding Secretary—Prof E H Crawford Southurn Recording Secretary—A C Daniels Salem Treasurer—Prof E B Henderson, Harrisburg Executive Committee—G I Emlyson, Albany, A C Daniels, Salem I Stilson, Corvallis

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, a portion of the scaffolding used in building the new Presbyterian Church, on Washington street, suddenly gave way, precipitating two of the workmen a distance of 12 feet below. One of them escaped uninjured, but the other, Mr. W. L. Cardwell, unfortunately fell upon the sharp-pointed stakes of a fence beneath, and remained impaled thereon for several minutes, being unable to move. A portion of the scaffolding also fell upon him. Assistance was immediately procured, and he was conveyed to his residence, where he was carefully attended to. We regret to say that Mr. Cardwell was very severely, if not dangerously injured, as two of the stakes entered his body—one inflicting a ghastly wound in the abdomen and the other severely cutting him in the groin.

RECORDER'S COURT.—John Cavanagh, for being drunk and disorderly, was committed to the City Jail for four days. It appears that Cavanagh was also a deserter from the service of Uncle Sam, and that agents from Vancouver were here after him. The Recorder admonished John to return to his duty and be a better boy in future.

PATENT GRIST MILL.—Yesterday we had the pleasure of inspecting a patent French grist mill, which works on an entirely new principle. The buhr-stones, unlike those in general use, oscillate when in motion, and are self-balancing. This mill was manufactured by the patentee, E. Brisson, of Orleans, France, and was exhibited to us by Mr. M. Chappellier, sole agent for the United States, who will at all times be pleased to show this useful machine to those interested. The mill can be seen in operation at Monastes' foundry, First street.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Julia, on her arrival from the Dalles last evening, brought a large number of passengers and $50,000 in gold dust to Wells, Fargo & Co.

DEPARTURE.—The steamer Brother Jonathan sailed at 7 o'clock last evening for San Francisco, via Victoria, with a very large number of passengers and upwards of $200,000 in gold.

VEGETABLES.—S. Maltese, No. 17 Front street, has just received from San Francisco, per Brother Jonathan, a large quantity of fresh vegetables of every description, which he offers for sale at the lowest rates. Give him a call.

THE WEATHER still continues moderately warm, though by no means oppressive. Yesterday the thermometer indicated 80° in the shade and 102° in the sun.

"STILL WATERS RUN DEEP."—We regret to observe that there was but a limited attendance at the theater on the occasion of Mr. Graham's benefit, on Tuesday evening last, though the bill was one of the most attractive yet offered this season. The fine comedy of "Still Waters Run Deep" was an excellent performance, and the artistic rendering of "Mildmay," by Mr. Waldron, elicited frequent and merited bursts of applause. Indeed, we have never seen Mr. W. appear to greater advantage. "Potter" was well represented by Mr. Graham, who was favorably received. Miss Mitchell, as "Mrs. Sternhold," played with her usual ability, and the fashionable "Hawksley" was excellently sustained by Mr. Thayer. Both the beneficiary and Mr. Waldron were called before the curtain at the end of the piece. The performance concluded with "Toodles," that insatiate tippler being humorously rendered by Mr. Reeves; though that proboscis was certainly "too much of a good thing."

This evening the favorite play of "The Hunchback" will be performed, together with a favorite farce.

WOOL, FURS AND HIDES.—1000 lbs Wool, 400 Furs, and 150 Hides were shipped by Hexsell org & Co. yesterday.

Liver Complaint Cured.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 22, 1862.

Messrs. A. L. SCOVILL & Co—Gents: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit which my daughter has derived from the use of DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS. She had been troubled with what the physician called LIVER COMPLAINT; but her doctor failed to give her any permanent relief, although she tried his prescription effectually. She had become melancholy, unhappy, and her constitution was much broken down by the use of Mercury. She tried DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and soon began to get better. I am happy to say that she has now recovered her health.

Respectfully yours, JAMES COBB.

The Rebel Terms of Peace.

The Richmond Enquirer, of July 7th, with all the high hopes placed upon Lee's success before it, and no knowledge of his defeat, the fall of Vicksburg, and the retreat of Bragg, and the hopelessness of holding Port Hudson, thus haughtily states the rebel terms of peace.

The acknowledgment of the independence of every State now in the Confederacy, and the free choice of the people of Maryland to determine whether they will elect the Confederacy or the United States, will form the first of the "conditions" Kentucky and Missouri are already members of the Confederacy, and, upon the hypothesis of Confederate success, must remain members of the Confederacy unless their people determine otherwise With their future destiny the United States can have nothing whatever to do, and will not be permitted to exercise any authority or exert any influence upon their people

The navigation of the Mississippi, though lost to the United States by the trial of battle, may yet be theirs by the "conditions of peace" Its advantages are reciprocal and will be readily yielded to the United States.

The return of all negroes deported by the Yankees or payment of their value will be another of the "conditions of peace". The laws of war were violated in letter and spirit by the running off of these negroes, and the destruction of the property of private, unarmed citizens—payment will be a condition of peace

Trade relations will also form a part of these conditions—what their nature or character may be it is impossible to speculate upon. But as they are mutual in their advantages, and exist by treaty between all nations, they will doubtless arise, despite the animosities engendered by the war

The conditions of peace that the victorious Confederates will propose are simple, and we believe will, in the course of time, prove advantageous to both nations

The people of the Confederate States believe that their future destiny can be better accomplished in separate nationality than under the Federal Union

To attest the honesty of this belief, they have maintained a war which has desolated much of their territory, sacrificed many of the bravest and best of their people, and endured all the privations and cruelties inflicted by the enemy They have demonstrated their determination never again to live in union with the people of the United States; and they have illustrated their power to defy the enemy's efforts by a series of victories unparalleled in the history of war. Their conditions of peace will involve no humiliation of the enemy, no loss of power except such as is incidental to our separate nationality.

If the enemy are unwilling to accept these conditions of peace, so let it be The war is, and will remain in Pennsylvania, and further North!

REMARKS ON MEADE'S GENERALSHIP Gen. Meade has already been harshly and senselessly criticised by ignorant, impatient and unmilitary persons, because he did not give hot pursuit to Lee's columns on the morning of the 4th of July, as soon as it was discovered that Lee had retreated But it must be remembered that pursuit at that moment was not such an easy matter 1st If Lee's army had suffered enormously, Gen Meade's army had also suffered severely. 2d Lee had a shorter line of retreat to the Potomac than it was possible for Meade to pursue 3d If Meade had given chase, Lee could have taken possession of the chief mountain gaps in that mountaineous region, and with a small infantry force and artillery well planted, he could have held at bay a larger force than his own. 4th Gen. Meade had no reserve. The whole of his army was engaged in the battle, and it has been rare indeed in the history of war that the forces actually engaged in the heat of the conflict of a long-enduring and first class action have ever given chase to a retreating foe The strain upon the nervous system and upon the whole physical man in a battle is so enormous that as soon as the fierce and deathly excitement of the contest is over the army collapses and requires a repose of many days. The retreating army is impelled on its retreat by fear—it makes one last, despairing effort to get out of the reach of the foe who has defeated it, and who, it may be feared, will send up fresh troops to inflict upon it the blow of death. But a successful army has no such impelling motive, and hence the physical collapse is irresistible. It is the custom among European military nations to hold one-third of an army as a reserve in battle, not to be called into action, but to be held well in hand, to fall upon the columns of the enemy as soon as they show signs of wavering, and to pursue them the instant they commence to retreat But it is one of the incomprehensible things connected with our military management, that we have never had a proper reserve force, neither for the war, for a campaign, nor for a battle It is true that we have had plenty, far too many, battles, in which but a part, sometimes but a small part, of the army was engaged But this was a proof of imbecility—only equaled by the want of a proper reserve corps Had Gen. Meade had, as he should have had, a reserve corps of 30,000 on the 3d day of the current month of July, the whole army of Gen Lee would now have been prisoners of war

Lastly, in reference to this matter of Meade's pursuit of Lee, I would only say that he did pursue Lee on his retreat from Gettysburg. He pursued him with his whole splendid cavalry force, harrassed greatly his flanks and rear, and took thousands of his men captive; and this was all that was possible for him to do whether viewed in a military or in a physical aspect

CONTRABAND vs GREENBACKS.—A characteristic incident occurred in this place, on Monday evening last, at the corner near the Surveyor General's office, which if properly reported to Secretary Chase, would doubtless tend to restore a more amicable feeling than at present seems to exist between the parties We mean the heroic conduct displayed by the troops of the old Surveyor, employed in the Kill nat wat shop toward a "colored brother," who had in their presence indignantly spurned and trampled upon the picture of Secretary Chase, illustrating a "$2" greenback The proud contraband was pretty roughly handled by the champions of the Secretary and had it not been for the reinforcement of the nigger by the town marshal, the utter rout, capture and expatriation of at least one of "the causes of the war" would have certainly followed—as it was however the 'colored element' escaped to his entrenchments and the valiant troops of the Surveyor General "retired in good order!"—Overland Press

Governor Yates, of Illinois, is one of the most ardent and enthusiastic patriots in the land On the receipt of the late Vicksburg news at Chicago, he made a speech well suited to the time and tone of his hearers. He said in conclusion "I would say to every aspiring, patriotic young man, if he would be successful, he must not only be in favor of this war, but also the next one"

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and found such general favor in every region of [illegible] where they have been sold, (and there is [illegible]) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read some of the cases which its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering, the EXPECTORANT

Operates Immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former

DR D JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of the most eminent physicians whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.

I am now quite another man and my general health has never been better

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,

PHYSICIANS

CITIZENS

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects or medical virtues of these Bitters

Do you want something to strengthen you?

Do you want a good appetite?

Do you want to build up your constitution?

Do you want to feel well?

Do you want to get rid of nervousness?

Do you want energy?

Do you want to sleep well?

Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

From Rev J Newton Brown, D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

J NEWTON BROWN

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA August 23

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them, the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months For, gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life

Very truly yours ISAAC MALONE

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr Malone, restored to life
